HAVOC BY THE CYCLONE

Fifteen People Killed Instantly
In Eastern Kansas.

GEORGIA SWEEP BY WIND STORMS

Graphic Description of the Terrible Devastation Wrought on the Prairies of the Sunflower State—Five Deaths Caused by Gas Explosion in a Mine at Wilkesbarre.

PERRY, Kan., June 23.—The cyclone at Williamstown, this state, was the most destructive and death dealing that ever visited eastern Kansas. It traveled south-east and took in a scope of country half a mile wide and about six miles long. Not a house, barn or tree was left standing in its path. It was accompanied by a terrible rain storm and midnight darkness.

Fifteen people were killed. The bodies of all those killed were shockingly mangled. Mrs. Hutchinson's arms and legs were found in a tree a mile from the house. Eva Kincaide's head was severed from her body. Samuel Stewart and L. M. Grimes were carried 300 yards in different directions and mutilated almost beyond recognition. Stewart's body was cut in two as if by the stroke of a great knife. After the storm had passed the people of Perry and Lawrence were summoned to the scene. The demolition was awful, and the hunt with lanterns over the wind swept spot for the dead and dying commenced. All night long this work was in progress. A corps of physicians from the two towns was quartered at Perry, two miles distant, administering to the wants of the crippled and maimed, while citizens from the towns were gathering the dead and dying from the prairie and laying them out in a large building provided for that purpose.

The strip of country swept by the cyclone is as barren as a floor. In the Williamstown schoolhouse were found the dead bodies of the Kincaide family, consisting of father, mother and four children. The youngest child is without its head, it being blown or cut off and carried away by the wind. One of the children was found three miles from the house.

At Arthur Evans' farm, a quarter of a mile northeast of Williamstown, everything is destroyed. Evans ran into his basement but was found dead three rods from the house in the field. Mrs. Evans also took shelter in the basement and escaped with her life, but is badly injured. Mrs. Evans' father was in the rear portion of the basement, which was dug in the bluff and he escaped unhurt.

At the Hutchinson farm, which is northeast of Williamstown, Mrs. Hutchinson lost her life and Mrs. Hutchinson was slightly injured. Seven head of horses were killed here. Some of the horses were blown a quarter of a mile away.

Where the storm struck the timber it literally levelled it, besides stripping the trees of foliage and bark. Trees are torn up by the roots, broken off at the ground and at all distances from the ground.

Five Killed by an Explosion.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 23.—While eight men were at work at Nanticoke in No. 6 gangway of No. 9 slope of the Susquehanna Coal company, about three-quarters of a mile from the bottom of the shaft, a terrible explosion of gas took place which hurled the victims off their feet and scattered them in all directions, killing four men and a boy instantly, and seriously but not fatally injuring three more. The dead are:

Abram Walker, miner, married, leaves five children.

Frank Beunick, 14 years of age, door boy, died after reaching home.

John Smith, miner, married, leaves three children.

William Shortz, laborer, burned to a crisp.

Polander, whose name could not be learned, nor could his body be recognized.

The injured are:

John Gwent, horribly burned about the head and arms, in a serious condition.

Two Polanders, names unknown, both badly burned on hands and face.

Georgia Swept by a Cyclone.

ATLANTA, June 23.—A cyclone swept for 50 miles across the counties above Atlanta. Dallas, a small town on the East Tennessee, Virginia and Georgia railroad, 35 miles above Atlanta, was badly wrecked and the following buildings destroyed: Residences of J. R. Koeter, D. W. Lawrence, Mrs. Hadden, J. B. Hunt, Connelly & Connelly's drug store, Owen's brick lot. Twenty houses were unroofed but no lives lost. Crops were ruined over a large tract. As the storm approached Atlanta many became frightened and ran to cellars. Two hundred people collected under the new Forsyth street iron bridge for safety. The cloud split on the western edge of the city and passed to the north and south, unroofing small buildings and destroying telephone communications.

Train Struck by Lightning.

GAINSVILLE, Ga., June 23.—The "Air Line Belle" on the Richmond and Danville railroad was struck by lightning near here. The headlight and whistle were literally torn to pieces. Besides, several stories in the cars were demolished and numerous car windows broken. No one was seriously injured.

Killed by a Train.

ELICOTT CITY, Md., June 23.—Peter Meehan, a workman from Albion, waiting for the owl train from Baltimore, fell asleep on the track in front of the station and was struck by an eastbound freight train and killed. Both legs were cut off and his head mashed.

Japanese Immigrants Refused Admission.

VICTORIA, B. C., June 23.—Among the Japanese passengers brought by the steamship Empress of India on her last trip was a party of 16 who sought admission to the United States by way of Port Townsend. Investigation conducted by the collector soon brought out the fact that eight of them were under contract, and they were refused admission. It is not likely that they will return to Japan but will either locate in Canada or seek admission in another way to the United States.

Death of Mr. Crittenden.

NORFOLK, June 23.—Mr. S. E. Crittenden of the Princess Anne hotel at Virginia Beach, died from congestion of the brain. Mr. Crittenden was overcome with the heat on Saturday last. He was 57 years of age and leaves a widow and one daughter.

Weissart in West Virginia.

WHEELING, June 23.—General A. G. Weissart, commander-in-chief of the G. A. R., has arrived here on an official visit. G. A. R. men throughout the department of West Virginia are here and a reception and camp fire was held in his honor.

Fire at Clinch Haven.

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 23.—At Clinch Haven fire destroyed a million feet of lumber, valued at $10,000 dollars, owned by Paxton & Mattox.

BARR WAS CLEVER.

He Was General Utility Man in His Community but Wrote Bad Rhymes.

WHEELING, June 23.—It has come to the knowledge of the Baltimore and Ohio company and the Union News company that agents of the latter have abused their privilege of selling on the company's trains by offering a very rank variety of obscene literature. The railroad company, assisted by the news company, set out to put a stop to it and discover who was furnishing the objectionable matter. W. B. Jones, a news agent, was arrested at Cambridge, O. In his trunk was found a roll of obscene literature.

Jones said he did not know the name of the man who supplied the printed matter, but said he lived in Butler, O., and gave a description of him. He explained further that the man was in the habit of coming on the trains and delivering him the rhymes. Jones was taken to Butler and identified as the man from whom he purchased the matter one J. L. Barr, publisher of the Cyclone, banker, general business man, compounder of condition powders and superintendent of a Sunday school. When confronted Barr weakened and admitted the truth of the charge, and was placed under $500 bail. He says that the same thing is being done on other rail roads.

ATTEMPT AT ROBBERY.

A Rich Train Fired Upon in Texas by a Band of Outlaws.

DENISON, Tex., June 23.—South bound Missouri, Kansas and Texas train No. 3 was fired into at Stringtown by a band of outlaws supposed to be the Dyer gang. The train was running on time and did not stop. One of the trainmen said:

"I think the freight engine that was pulling us saved us. The bandits were in ambush at the south end of the switch, and when the engine whistled they thought it was a freight and laid low. When they saw their mistake they fired and tried to stop us. We were running 20 miles an hour. They flagged the engineer and fired at him, the ball passing through the cab window. There were probably six robbers."

The train was a rich one, and especially in the express and registered pouches. The express company expect a shipment of the strip money and fear another attempt will be made to rob it. It is reported that the officers were close on the robbers in Kaney bottom.

SURVEY OF LABRADOR.

Officials of the Canadian Geological Survey Start on a Perilous Journey.

QUEBEC, June 23.—Two members of the geological survey have just left Quebec on one of the longest, most important and perilous exploring surveys ever undertaken into what is generally supposed to be the wild and inhospitable territory in the far north of eastern Canada known as the Labrador peninsula.

The expedition will be absent from civilization for nearly two years, and before its return to Quebec hopes to have solved the enigmas of the great Lake Mississinipi and of the cataraict of the Hamilton river, concerning which such fabulous tales have been told.

It expects to traverse the interior of Labrador from south to north as well as from west to east, to visit all Ungava bay in the extreme north and Hamilton inlets in the extreme east.

Historical Event Celebrated at Chicago.

CHICAGO, June 23.—A splendid bronze memorial group, the gift of George M. Pullman to the city of Chicago, was unveiled on the ground where most of the victims of Fort Dearborn massacre of 1812 fell. The massacre by the savages of the soldiers, men, women and children who had left Fort Dearborn to make their way toward the eastern settlements was the first great calamity, the first dramatic event in the annals of the then undreamed of World's fair city. The location of the monument is on the shore of Lake Michigan at Eighteenth street, near the residence of Mr. Pullman. The oration at the unveiling was delivered by ex-President Harrison, who spoke extemporaneously.

New Library For Cornell University.

ITHACA, N. Y., June 23.—Through the generosity of a friend of Cornell university and the efforts of Professor Hewett, the splendid library of Professor Sarnecke of the University of Leipzig has been purchased and presented to Cornell. This collection embraces more than 18,000 volumes. It is said to be unequalled by any private library in Germany, and surpassed possibly by but few of the greater university libraries.

Gracefully Yielded the Championship.

PHILADELPHIA, June 23.—The most interesting feature of the lawn tennis championship tournament was the announcement that Miss M. E. Cahill, the champion, will forfeit to the winner of the final game between Miss Scholz of New York, and Miss Terry of Brooklyn. Miss Cahill has been ill and is in no condition to defend her title to the championship.

Hoke Smith in a Railroad Case.

BALTIMORE, June 23.—Hon. Hoke Smith, secretary of the interior, was in Baltimore on private business. Mr. Smith is counsel for the company which is trustee of the Georgia Southern and Florida railroad mortgage bonds. This case comes up in Atlanta next week and his visit it is understood was in reference to it.

Death of a Brutal Father.

CARNEVILLE, Ga., June 23.—F. Hanev a white man, beat his 2-year-old girl child to death. After he had done this he burst its head, broke its ribs and stuck his knife in its body in different places. Hanev is now in the Carnesville jail, but some think Judge Lynch will pass sentence.

Permission Asked to Withdraw an Exhibit.

BOSTON, June 23.—John Willis Baer, secretary of the United Society of Christian Endeavor has asked Selim H. Peabody, chief of the liberal arts department, World's Columbian exposition, permission to withdraw the society's exhibit because of Sunday opening.

Death of a Maryland Author.

BALTIMORE, June 23.—Mrs. William F. Cunningham died at her home in Clear Spring. She was the author of several books, among them being "For Honor's Sake" and "In Sancho Panza's Pit." She was 43 years old.

Election of a Bishop.

BERLINGTON, Vt., June 23.—Rev. Dr. Samuel Hart, professor of Trinity college, was elected bishop of the Episcopal church of Vermont.

Fire at Clinch Haven.

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 23.—At Clinch Haven fire destroyed a million feet of lumber, valued at $10,000 dollars, owned by Paxton & Mattox.

SEVERAL NEW CONSULS

Singapore Raised to Consulate General by the President.

NO PENSION DEFICIENCY THIS YEAR

Sketches of Some of the Men Who Will Represent the United States Abroad. Late Official News From the National Capital—Mr. Breckenridge May Marry.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—With the appointment of E. Spencer Pratt of Alabama to be consul general at Singapore was given the first public information that Singapore had been raised from a consulate to a consulate general. Singapore is an important post for officers of the British consular service, and is considered a position of honor. For this reason and on account of its great trade it is understood that the president decided to raise its rank. Mr. Pratt is a citizen of Mobile, and was educated in France. He was appointed minister to Persia during Mr. Cleveland's first term and continued at Teheran for about half of Mr. Harrison's administration. Mr. Pratt has had considerable social prominence, and this is believed to have weighed somewhat in securing his appointment to a post where social distinction has great weight.

W. S. Campbell of New York, who goes to Newcastle, England, is an old time Democrat and has served in a consular capacity before. When quite a young man President Tyler appointed him consul to Rotterdam, and under President Tyler he was transferred to Dresden, where he remained until recalled by President Grant. Mr. Campbell is the father-in-law of General Kelton, late adjutant general of the army and the present governor of the National Soldiers' Home near Washington.

William F. Koulter of Ohio, the new consul to Hergen, Switzerland, is the editor of a German newspaper, The Westvolk, published in Columbus. His principal backer is Congressman Outwater.

James A. Demarest of New Jersey, appointed consul at Brockville, Canada, is also a newspaper man. He edits The Daily Press of Plainfield.

Still another fortunate newspaper man is Thomas C. Jones of Kentucky, appointed consul to Funchal, Madeira. He is editor of the Louisville Truth.

No Pension Deficiency For 1893.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—There will be no pension deficiency for the current fiscal year which ends June 30 next. That is assured by figures obtained from the treasury department. They show that the appropriations for pensions were: For the fiscal year 1892-3, $146,737,350; deficiency for the year 1893 and prior years, $14,144,884; total, $160,882,234. Expended for pensions: For June up to date, $10,989,000; total, to date, $158,225,366; estimate for balance of June, $1,000,000; total, $159,225,366. This will leave a surplus of about $1,000,000, which will be turned into the treasury.

Revenue Collectors and Their Tenures.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The tenure of office of internal revenue collectors differs from that of other federal officers. They have no fixed term established by law, still the policy has been to let them serve four years unless good reason is shown for their earlier removal. Many changes will occur in the officers about the last of July, the beginning of the next fiscal year. Resignations have been very generally asked for.

Payment of Interest to Be Hastened.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The secretary of the treasury has improved upon the notice given that the 4 per cent. interest due July 1 would be paid on Monday next. He has now decided that payment may be made as fast as delivery of the checks can be effected and the several assistant treasurers have been notified accordingly.

Librarian Wanted.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—A librarian is wanted for the department of agriculture, salary $1,800. The civil service commission announces that in addition to the usual clerical examination applicants must be prepared for examination in modern languages, German, French, Italian and Spanish, library economy, bibliography and literature of agriculture.

More Presidential Appointments.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—Among those appointed by the president were these: James A. Demarest of New Jersey, consul at Brockville, Canada; Henry Smythe of Virginia at Fuchal, China; and Jesse W. Sparks of Tennessee at Piedras Negras, Mexico.

Fourth of July in Philadelphia.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The Naval Veteran Legion of Philadelphia has requested the secretary of the navy to permit the sailors and marines at the League Island navy yard to participate in their parade on July 4.

Ainsworth Case Before the Grand Jury.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The grand jury took up the Ford's theater calamity case against Colonel F. C. Ainsworth, and examined a number of technical witnesses as to the cause of the disaster.

Breckenridge to Wed.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—The engagement of Representative W. C. P. Breckenridge of Kentucky and Miss Madeline Pollard, who is now a guest of Mrs. Blackburn, is announced.

A St. Louis Consensus.

WASHINGTON, June 23.—A consensus contribution of $20 from an unknown St. Louis person was received at the treasury and placed to the credit of "consensus."

The Capital to Stay at Sacramento.

WOODLAND, Cal., June 23.—Superior Judge Grant has decided in favor of Sacramento against San Jose in the state capital removal case. The constitutionality of the action of the recent legislature, submitting an amendment to the constitution allowing a change of the capital, was brought to be tested in his court and the act is declared void.

New President of Clemson College.

COLUMBIA, S. C., June 23.—Professor E. B. Craighead has been elected president of Clemson college. This is the new agricultural college which will be opened July 1. Craighead is considered one of the finest educators of the south. He is a native of Missouri and has studied at four foreign colleges.

Burford's Followers in Good Spirits.

RICHMOND, Va., June 23.—The Burford followers in this locality claim that their candidate has good prospects of receiving a majority of the votes cast in the gubernatorial convention on Aug. 17.

CUT DOWN TO PLAIN FACTS.

The German training ship Gesenau sailed from Newport for Cowes, England.

Only two of the victims of the Ford theater disaster remain at the Emergency hospital.

Barney Kelly, a prominent Baltimore politician and city official, fell dead in the street.

It is estimated that a million baskets of peaches will be shipped from Queen Anne's county, Md., this season.

The Duke of Veragua will visit Albany on Saturday. An extensive programme for the occasion has been prepared.

The People's bank of Pomona, Cal., closed its doors with the announcement that depositors will be paid in full.

The newly appointed pension examiners for Maryland have entered upon their duties. The secretary is Dr. Edward W. Gilliam.

Louis Hobomold, aged 62, an inmate of the soldiers' home at Washington, was accidentally drowned in the lake on the grounds.

Mr. Henry T. Thurber, private secretary to President Cleveland, is likely to be the Democratic nominee for governor of Michigan next year.

Mrs. Alex Cameron was honorably discharged by the grand jury at Halifax after being in jail six months, charged with poisoning her husband.

Secretary Carlisle has called for the resignation of St. Julien B. Dapray of South Carolina, chief of the division of the supervising architect's office.

The Canadian Liberal convention has adjourned, after passing resolutions demanding radical tariff reform and free trade with the whole world.

The naval board which inspected the dry dock at Port Royal, S. C., reports that very little damage was done to the dock and excuses the contractor from all fault.

Eniline Duthoit Henderson was divorced at Sioux Falls, S. D., from David Henderson of Belfast, Ireland. The Hendersons have been prominent in the history of Great Britain and this country in charitable work.

Nearly one-third of the United States consuls abroad have been changed. There are about 300 consuls in the service, but the number of really desirable posts paying not less than $1,500 per annum does not exceed 250, and of these Mr. Quincy has made changes up to June 15 in the case of 81 consulates.

A frolicsome broker kicked a sack of grain held by W. P. Callaghan on the floor of the Produce Exchange in New York. Callaghan saw John S. Taylor laughing and asked who hit the bag. Taylor replied, "I did it." Callaghan struck Taylor over the head with the sack and the next instant Taylor was hard at work giving Callaghan a pair of black eyes.

General Longstreet lives in what is described as "a white pine box" of a house near the ruins of his fine old mansion in central Georgia, which was destroyed by fire a few years ago. The house he now occupies faces the Blue mountains, and commands a view of unsurpassed beauty. The Confederate veteran is 72 years old and a man of patriarchal aspect.

Goertz Elected to the Reichstag.

BERLIN, June 23.—The first of the second ballots was taken in the Lubeck. The candidates were Johann Schwartz, Social Democrat, who received on the first ballot 7,389 votes, and Herr Goertz, Radical Unionist, who received on the first ballot 7,150. Goertz was supported by the National Liberals and was elected by a majority of 150. As Schwartz was the last deputy for Lubeck this is a loss to the Social Democrats as well as to the enemies of the army bill.

Dangerous Counterfeiters at Wheeling.

WHEELING, June 23.—The police of Wheeling have evidence that a den of dangerous counterfeiters is somewhere in this vicinity, and are working on several clues. Two men were caught in the act of passing bogus silver dollars and were arrested. They had disposed of 10 of the spurious pieces in a house of ill fame and were arrested on complaint of the landlady. Their names are Harry Bowers and Jack Meredith, and both are old residents.

Maryland Democratic State Convention.

BALTIMORE, June 23.—The Democratic state central committee met here and named Wednesday, Sept. 27, as the time and Baltimore the place for holding the state convention for nominating a candidate for comptroller and select a new state central committee. For the first time in 20 years Senator Gorman failed to materialize at a meeting of the state central committee.

Justin McCarthy Disappointed.

LONDON, June 23.—Interviews with Justin McCarthy and other Irish leaders show that they are disappointed over the
